RURAL POWER LINES FOR VARIOUS SECTIONS OF HANCOCK ANNOUNCED

Kiln, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore, Pearlington, Logtown, Gainesville and Tigerville to Be Directly Benefitted by Federal Project.

Extension of electric power lines into rural sections of Pearl River and Hancock counties, made possible by the Rural Electrification Administration, may begin within the next few weeks, according to the plan of the Mississippi Planning Commission.

Final approval by the REA at Washington of a project providing for expenditure of $69,200 in the construction of 86.4 miles of lines recommended by the State Rural Electrification authority was all that remained necessary before contracts may be let for construction, Director Folse said.

The project, surveyed by planning commission engineers, would provide for electrification of a minimum of 605 homes and farms. The lines would extend through Kiln, Clermont Harbor, Lakeshore, Pearlington, Logtown, Gainesville and Tigerville, in Hancock county, and Cascar in Pearl River county. The planning official revealed that he and Chairman Evon A. Ford of the state REA would, following approval of the project, come to either Bay St. Louis or Piquette for a meeting to organize the group, probably to be known as the Hancock-Pearl River Power Association.

"Citizens who have signed agreements during our survey to subscribe to electric service on the lines," he explained, will be invited to the meeting. They will elect a board of directors to supervise the operation of the lines."

Under the plan of operating the Mississippi Power Company, which has made a wholesale rate offer to meet the requirements of the REA at Washington, offers to sell electricity at wholesale rates from point of connection of the association's lines. The association would then resell the current at retail rates, using profits to maintain an organization and retire the REA loan that would be made for construction of the lines.

The federal government, through the REA, offers to loan money at low interest rates for construction of rural power lines by groups of citizens organized into associations. The loans are secured by liens upon the lines and are to be repaid from the revenues derived from the sale of electricity to association members at retail rates.

The Hancock-Pearl River project is one of nine surveyed by the planning commission, approved by the state REA and submitted to Washington for final sanction. One, extending into rural areas of Coahoma, Sunflower and Quitman counties and to be served from the Clarksdale municipal plant, has already been approved and the contract for construction is expected to be let within a few days.

Members of the state REA, appointed by Governor Hugh White, include Chairman Ford of Taylorsville, Secretary First Long of Ripley and Judge Jeff Kent of Forest.

FORMAL RE-OPENING OF BRADLEY'S CLUB WIDELY ACCLAIMED

Saturday Night Opening is Witnessed; Spacious Place Taxed to Capacity.

The formal opening of Bradley's Night Club, at Henderson's Point, for the new year winter season, Saturday night, was largely attended by representatives from all sections of the Coast and elsewhere.

It was a capacity crowd and well repaid were the patrons for their presence. A fine orchestra discoursed music to which the many danced until 2 o'clock in the morning and every available table space was taken.

Two floor shows were given, one at midnight and the other at two o'clock. There specialty numbers were by talent from away. These were well received and given liberal plaudits.

Encouraging to the management was this manifestation of appreciation on the part of the public for such high-class entertainment. The best of foods and soft drinks were served and all at popular prices. The entrance fee has been placed at lowest cost and one may enjoy an evening of entertainment without the inconvenience of high prices.

Under the personal management of the owner, Mr. J. D. Tschopik, Bradley's promises to prove a success in the fullest sense and will serve as another contributing factor to entertainment not only home folks but the many visitors and others who come to the Coast from time to time.

Bay St. Louis has secured the Regional Basketball Tournament for the five local counties this year, which will bring over the period of the few days many people. There will be group A and group B, one of which alone will bring over 500 basketball players.

Securing the big attraction and sports even of the season is a big feather in the cap of local athletics and Bay St. Louis and its importance must not be lost sight of.

City Superintendent of Schools S. J. Ingram, speaking for the facility as well as himself, expressed considerable satisfaction over the fact Bay St. Louis had secured this outstanding school athletic attraction.

Central Figures in Big Birthday Party

President Franklin D. Roosevelt, whose birthday January 30 will be the occasion for a series of 5,000 celebrations to be held throughout the country to raise funds for the nation's war against infantile paralysis. COURT HOUSE A NEW LOGTOWN

Interior Undergoing General Renovation—Walls and Woodwork Repainted.

Renovating the entire interior of the county courthouse is in progress with H. L. Witter, contractor, in charge of the painting.

Hancock county is very proud of its courthouse, built some twenty-five years ago at a cost of $25,000.00. That building, people in position to know and who can speak authoritatively, say the building could not be duplicated today for four times that amount.

Originally sand finished, the walls have never been tinted although the marks of time have dimmed the lustre of newness and settling of the building has caused cracked walls. The work now in progress takes care of the evidences of time and walls are painted and the woodwork given a fresh finish. This work has been quite necessary for quite a while but the retrenching hands of the powers have held expenditures at low water mark. Necessary for the reason that deterioration must be stayed and the building, not only protected from the ravages of time but as well to hold the dignity and proper being of the principal building in the county.

Let it be said to the credit of the Supervisors and Clerk A. C. Favre who is directing and generally supervising the improvements, the work is carried out in the best and most approved form and in a manner that calls for intelligent economy. In keeping with the interior the grounds are always well kept and recently a number of spring-blooming plants were planted along the walks and various beds in the lawn.

This work is well under way and will be finished within the next few weeks. It is planned to have it done in thorough manner and to leave nothing unfinished. Strangers and other visitors will join the home folks in viewing the court building with justifiable pride.

Parking Regulation For Main Street Announced Abolished

At a meeting of the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners, held Monday, in response to a flood of complaints of the one-side parking of automobiles and trucks along Main street, residents and business firms of each side of the street, denouncing as to what they termed an apparent discrimination, the city board very promptly and decisively met the situation by abolishing all parking regulation. It is now not unlawful to park on either side of the street. The old regulation became objectionable when the post office building was completed on the opposite side of the street to its former location. Now cars and other vehicles may park where they will along Main street and no arrests will follow.

At the same session of the board Aline Saucier, who was recently appointed to the police force on half time was given full time, taking effect February 1. Saucier is very efficient and knows how to use his head, so to speak, and his appointment to full time will be received with general satisfaction. The city fathers wish to give our people the fullest and best police protection possible.

J. M. GIVENS BURIED AT LOGTOWN

Well-Known and Prominent Resident of County Dies After Brief Illness

Mr. James M. Givens, one of the best known citizens of this county, died at Touro Infirmary, New Orleans, Sunday night, January 17, at eleven o'clock. He was taken seriously ill at his home the Monday morning before and at once rushed to New Orleans for treatment, until the end.

Mr. Givens was born at Greenville, Mississippi, May 31, 1863. His father, Dr. Alonzo Givens, was a well-known physician in New Orleans and Mandeville, La., where the family resided.

As a young man Mr. Givens was employed by Poitevant and Favre Lumber Company and was actively engaged in the construction of the old East Louisiana Railroad, owned by that company. Later he served for a number of years as conductor on its passenger train operating between Covington and New Orleans. In 1900 Mr. Givens was employed by the H. Weston Lumber Company, of Logtown, Mississippi, to superintend the construction of its logging railroad, and continued as General logging superintendent until 1933, excepting about two years of that time when he was engaged in private business.

For the past several months he was superintendent of the Federal Work repairing the Bay-Waveland seawall.

On October 29, 1888, Mr. Givens was married to Miss Georgia O'Rourke. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Sidney Dausset of Jacksonville, Florida. On April 17, 1901 he married Miss Missouri Rousseaux.

Mr. Givens was reared in the Episcopal faith, but his family being members of the Methodist Church, he attended services of that denomination. He was an enthusiastic Mason and Shriner, being a member of Diamond Lodge No. 393, of Logtown, and the Scottish Rite bodies of Meridian, and was also a 32 degree Mason. His membership in the Shrine was at Meridian.

The funeral was held at his late residence in Westonia, Miss., Monday afternoon, conducted by the local Methodist Minister, Rev. F. Flurry, and Rev. J. W. Moore, of Passagoula, Miss., interment in Logtown Cemetery. Masonic services were held at the grave. Pall bearers were: D. L. Russ, I. F. Bennett, Joseph Spence, A. B. Honea, D. R. Weston, and A. C. Weston.

The funeral was largely attended by his many friends in this territory, as well as friends and relatives from New Orleans and other Louisiana points.

He is survived by his widow, one son, Horatio W. Givens, a director of the C. C. C. Camp at Belzoni, Miss., four daughters—Miss Bessie Givens, English teacher of Bay High School; Miss Georgia Givens, a junior student in Louisiana State University; Baton Rouge; Miss Pauline Givens, a Sophomore in Bay High School; and Mrs. Sidney Dausset, of Jacksonville, Florida, and one grand daughter, Irene Dausset, of Jacksonville; also one brother, Jos. R. Givens of New Orleans, and two sisters—Mrs. W. C. Picton and Mrs. T. Mercer Morman of New Orleans.

—Miss Addie Huber, a beautiful and attractive young lady from New Orleans is spending a few days here with her uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Charles Q. Thompson. Miss Huber made many friends on former visits and is receiving many social attentions.

FORMER CHIEF BURIED

Albert Jones, Sr., Laid to Rest Saturday Afternoon at St. Mary's

Following a long ailment Albert Jones, Sr., former deputy sheriff and former chief of police over a long period of years, died at his home in Ballentine street, Friday morning, January 15, 1937, at 1:15 o'clock, a native of New Orleans, aged 66 years.

He was a son of Dave Jones and Pauline Morris, residents of New Orleans, from which city he came to the Coast 46 years ago. First residing at Waveland and later moving to Bay St. Louis.

He served as deputy sheriff of Hancock county under the administration of three different sheriffs, each serving the full four-year term, namely, Sheriff Joseph F. Cazeneuve, Sheriff Albert Carver, and Sheriff Joseph E. Saucier, which is quite a record for recognition of duty and service.

Later he became city marshal. He was first elected in 1916 and served throughout until June, 1928, when he resigned, thus serving the city as chief of police for twelve years—another worthy record.

It could well be said of him that he was one of the best chief of police the city ever had. Serious in his work and fully realizing the responsibility of his trust. He was a guardian of the public and as such filled the task in most acceptable manner.

Later years he chose not to offer for the re-election and during the past few years served as public officer for one of the local banks, a position he held up to the time of his demise.

He is survived by his wife, the former Miss Aline Carver, of Bay St. Louis. The children are Albert Jones, Jr., of New Orleans; Mrs. Eddie Hietzmann, Mrs. Henry Capdepon, Mrs. Pasqual Piazza, James G. Jones and Miss Lillie Jones, all residents of Bay St. Louis.

A brother, George Jones, of New Orleans, and a sister, Mrs. Vincent Lopez, of New Orleans, also survive.

Funeral took place Saturday afternoon at 4 o'clock, with the Rev. Leo F. Fahey, Church Our Lady of the Gulf officiating both at the church and at the grave in St. Mary's cemetery, where the remains were consigned to the keeping of the bosom of mother earth, inclosed in a steel grave vault.

Many floral offerings marked the freshly-made mound, manifestations of sympathy to the bereaved and outward expressions to the memory of the departed one. The funeral was largely attended, and officials from both city and county were present, including a number of friends from away as well as many locally.

At its meeting Monday the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners appointed its fifth member to the new School Board of Trustees in the selection of John Damborino, resident of Ward 2, for a term of two years, ending January, 1939, succeeding S. L. Toquet, whose place automatically became vacant when he ceased to be a patron of the school, and who had served over a long period and to advantage of the city and its schools.

Mr. Damborino is a member of the Hancock County Board of Election Commissioners and book-keeper and auditor for The Sea Coast Echo as well as employed in other capacity on the newspaper.

All vacancies filled the new school Board of Trustees now stand: Dr. James A. Evans, president; Mrs. C. C. McDonald, secretary; Walter J. Gex, Jr., W. R. Cagle, John Damborino.

NEWS OF THE WEEK FROM THE KING'S DAUGHTERS HOSPITAL

King's Daughters' Hospital of Bay St. Louis continues serving many and the benefit to both city and county people cannot be overestimated.

Edison Bounds, 9-year-old son of Mrs. Angeline Hode Bounds, has recovered from a severe attack of pneumonia.

Mrs. O. Nicaise is a medical patient this week and is doing well.

Mrs. Hannah Fayard is also a medical patient at the hospital.

Mrs. Philip Millionary and baby were discharged Wednesday morning and have returned home.

Mr. Joseph Donnelly continues a medical patient.

Miss M. Boudreaux is also a medical patient at the hospital.

Bay St. Louis annual Carnival Ball to be held Thursday, February 4th, is a subject of increasing interest from day to day and the unveiled identity of both King and Queen is a matter of speculation and anticipation at high speed.

While not definite information has leaked out nor the slightest hint as to the identity of the King, there is every belief it is going to be a well-known figure in every day business activity, an individual who is seen daily at some time or another along Main street.

The Queen? Well, we don't even dare to intimate for the reason there is not the slightest conjecture. It will be an unusually beautiful court and one of many attendants.

This will be the fourth annual Carnival ball and court given under same auspices at the St. Joseph Gym.

It will be interesting here to recall the Kings and Queens of other years. 1934—Chas. G. Moreau, King; Marie E. Bertrand, Queen. 1935—Ed. J. Arceneaux, King; Miss Effie Graham Power (Mrs. Heidt D. Elliott) Queen. 1936—Anthony Glover, King; Miss Louise Carriere, Queen. 1937—?

However, names of dukes and maids will be published in these columns the week before the ball.

Pass Christian sends word quite a delegation from Pass Christian will attend the Bay Carnival ball. In turn, it is safe to say, Bay St. Louis will return the courtesy to Pass Christian on the night of Saturday, February 5.

In addition to the Carnival spirit there is quite a social side to the Bay St. Louis annual ball. Each year it is noted for its beauty of youth, charm of feminine grace and attire, and the gallery of handsome escorts.

And the long-time loveliness of the attending children flower girls, heralds, pages, train bearers.

A uniform admission of 50 cents to all will be charged. There will be plenty of parking space on the grounds; and easy entry and exit.

Mayor Blaize has promised officers on the premises and both driving and parking will be expeditiously handled.

City Selects Fifth Member of New School Board of Trustees

At its meeting Monday the Board of Mayor and City Commissioners appointed its fifth member to the new School Board of Trustees in the selection of John Damborino, resident of Ward 2, for a term of two years, ending January, 1939, succeeding S. L. Toquet, whose place automatically became vacant when he ceased to be a patron of the school, and who had served over a long period and to advantage of the city and its schools.

Mr. Damborino is a member of the Hancock County Board of Election Commissioners and book-keeper and auditor for The Sea Coast Echo as well as employed in other capacity on the newspaper.

All vacancies filled the new school Board of Trustees now stand: Dr. James A. Evans, president; Mrs. C. C. McDonald, secretary; Walter J. Gex, Jr., W. R. Cagle, John Damborino.

It was revealed that every committee has gone to work and progress reported up to the very minute.

Mrs. Kenneth W. Peppardene's name was added to the Decoration Committee of which Mrs. Geo. F. Stevenson is chairlady. Mr. W. A. Steahle's name was also incorporated as an additional member.

The appointment of Mr. John Damborino as treasurer for the event was also announced by the chair, the appointment made in vacation. Same was confirmed.

As a form of entertainment to the King and Queen and the court it was reported that Gulf Park College would supply several numbers, this through the instrumentality of Mrs. Theo Tudury, general chairlady. This will be an entirely new attraction to the ball and hailed with anticipation.

Heretofore it has been customary to give the first five dances to the court, however, for this year, this number will be cut to two, after which the general dancers may claim the floor.

Meeting for next week will take place on Wednesday night instead of the usual Tuesday. It is expected full reports will be offered and Mrs. M. L. Juden, chairlady court committee, will give a complete list of names comprising the entourage of King and Queen. The names of the King and Queen, however, will not be revealed. This will remain a profound secret.

Summing up the meeting as a whole the fact is patent that the Carnival Ball is going over big; that every detail is receiving due attention and nothing necessary for an unqualified success will be lacking. This is most encouraging and bespeaks for the splendid spirit and co-operation of Bay St. Louis.

GABRIEL WILL YIELD.

SOMETIME ago Clayton Rand had a serious automobile accident. He was carried to a hospital. For sometime his life was in danger but true to his nature and his record he rallied vigorously.

The attending physician insisted that Clayton should take the treatment to prevent tetanus. Clayton refused further suffering; insisted that there was a limit to every man's endurance.

"But suppose you should take lockjaw in about ten days," the doctor argued. "Think of your life. And think of my reputation as a doctor. What would people think of me permitting such a thing to happen?"

For several moments Clayton meditated on the problem. Then he responded "I don't care about your reputation. As far as I am concerned you can go to the devil. And as for my life, the way I have been suffering I would just as leave die. But when I think of the editors of Mississippi writing that Clayton Rand died with his jaws locked—well bring on the shot."

As a matter of fact no editor in Mississippi can imagine any tetanus or other germ powerful enough to shut Clayton Rand's mouth. It would be like trying to dam the Mississippi river with oatstraw, or bottling Mt. Vesuvius with a cork, or attempting to thwart the purpose of Fred Sullens with threats. As far as this writer is concerned the physician wasted his anti-toxin. Clayton would have out-locked the lockjaw germs.

But at that no one wants to thwart this oracle of wit, brilliance, good humor and pleasantry. In fact if Clayton goes to heaven and this is a controversial subject he will hold St. Peter spell-bound. On second thought, however, this is not a controversial subject for when Gabriel comes to blow his trumpet Clayton will toot it for him.—McComb Enterprise.

Isn't it about time for Bay St. Louis to stage a community beautification program?

A real baseball fan thinks that the new year begins when the big teams go into the training camps.

THEY'RE HAPPY NOW.

WHEN Uncle Sam took a hand in railroad fare schedules last spring and insisted that 2c a mile for passengers was a just and equitable rate there was a loud yell from the railroad owners. They protested in court, but lost. They then reluctantly set about operating under the 2c rate. Today practically everyone around Bay St. Louis knows how the plan worked out and is continuing to work. There was a sudden rush by the public to ride the railroad trains. Then came the new streamlined trains—and a still greater rush of business. Today more trains are being added to accommodate the still growing public demand for service, and trains that were annulled and abandoned during slack times and 3c fares are being restored in almost every part of the country. The new year promises to bring to the railroads the greatest volume of passenger business in their history. All of which goes to show that when your service is good and your prices are right the public will patronize you but it will not stand for being gouged.

Mrs. Nancy Wood Honeyman, of Oregon, only woman "freshman" in the 75th Congress, prefers to be called "Congressman" and not "Congresswoman."

Pensions to dependents and participants in all wars received $589,564,326 from the Veterans Administration during the fiscal year that ended last June. This sum does not include payment of the bonus.

WOMEN IN CONGRESS.

THE 75th Congress, which has just organized for its fateful labors, has six women members. If anybody has been fearful that women, as the result of gaining the suffrage, were going to dominate the government, they don't have to worry as long as 429 men hold seats in that body and will look out for the interests of the male sex.

There are many questions on which the judgment of a woman is better than that of a man. The combined wisdom of the Washington statesmen might be still better, if there were 60 women in that body instead of six. The six will be able to speak of many points in man framed laws, that fail to give justice to the interests of women and children.

No use arguing about the weather. No one knows just what to expect. It is really "June in January" on the Mississippi Coast.

Bills have already been introduced in Congress, designed to achieve the purposes of the Municipal Bankruptcy law, which was held unconstitutional by the Supreme Court last Spring.

Probably the largest money settlement in income tax fraud history was accepted last week by the Government when Moses L. Parsheley, really man, paid $2,000,000 in back income taxes and plead guilty to an indictment charging tax evasion.

KIDNAPERS MUST PAY.

THE kidnaping and brutal slaying of little Charles Mattson horrified a nation that waited and hoped for word that his life was safe. The finding of his battered body in the snow made real the fears entertained by millions who knew him only through the newspapers that recounted the story of his capture.

That the nation's police, in full force, gave its best energy to the capture and punishment of the monstrous brute was but evidence of the deep revulsion created in this country. Men and women abhor kidnaping like no other crime and those guilty of it must be apprehended and punished.

The Echo finds it hard to believe that normal humanity produces specimens so degraded as to kill innocent little children in the search for money. It is some solace to other human beings to believe that those connected with such fearful acts are abnormal but no mitigation of their guilt or excuse for their continued presence on earth.

We do not relish the torture of criminals nor do we advocate the death penalty, except in emergencies, but no death can adequately punish kidnapers who kill their victims with fiendish disregard of innocent childhood. In such cases, it appears, death should inexorably overtake those who kidnap and slay because such ruthless punishment by society seems necessary to protect other little boys and girls.

The people of the United States, with one mind, look to the nation's police forces to apprehend the guilty hands that struck down young Charles Mattson and to the law of the land for action to discourage such outrages against civilization and the home.

Don't get the idea that everybody is working against you; many of them don't even know you are around.

HOUSING A NATIONAL NEED.

WHEN President Roosevelt stressed the fact that millions of Americans live in homes which lack modern facilities and actually breed disease he directed attention to one of the sore spots of life in this country. He might have added that in many instances, living conditions also promote immorality.

The problem does not exist in the large cities, where slums abound, any more than in the smaller urban communities and on the farms of the nation. Lack of adequate housing is a national problem that can not be solved by blaming selfish landlords although there is something that can be done to curb the rapacity of a minority among them.

In the United States, in the five years before 1929, the nation built more than 400,000 homes a year but in the six years beginning with 1930 less than that number was built. The shortage of homes, during this six year period, was more than 2,000,000.

Bay St. Louis and Waveland are witnessing the beginning of a building era, with more new homes under construction today than at any time in the past few years. Everywhere over the nation the same report is heard. This work means permanent wealth for the country and in addition to furnishing work for labor provides a demand for the goods that are necessary to make house a home.

Talk to a dozen individuals about what Bay St. Louis needs and each one will have a different suggestion to make. That is a sign that we need at least twelve things.

$50,000,000 TO HELP BOYS.

CHARLES HAYDEN, private banker of New York, last week left almost his entire estate of about $50,000,000 to establish a charitable foundation for the education of boys and young men and the advancement of their "moral, mental and physical well-being."

Mr. Hayden was an officer and director in fifty-eight corporations, including some of the leading industrial and utility corporations of the country. He was never married but he was firmly convinced that the "future of this nation, and of the world for that matter, depends in no small part upon the young men of the United States." He believed that if they received the proper training "we shall rear a nobler race of men, who shall make better and more enlightened citizens, to the ultimate benefit of mankind."

The gift emphasizes again that in this country it is common for men of great wealth to leave huge sums for the general good. It certainly is to their credit. Whether it would be wiser, and a source of greater joy to them, to distribute surplus wealth during their lifetime, perhaps in the form of higher pay to workers, is debatable.

There are people in Bay St. Louis who do not mind owing a merchant and, being broadminded, have no objections to his presenting a bill, but they get provoked when he indicates that he expects to get the money.

JAMES M. GIVENS.

PASSING away of James M. Givens, of Hancock county, removes a valued citizen from our midst, a man who stood high in all circles of the society of man and ethics.

Mr. Givens had by his services contributed largely to the industrial development of the county; he was identified with the manufacturing interest in a most substantial manner. His life was outstanding as exemplary and it is for this reason the loss will be felt all the more.

In noting the demise of Mr. Givens we do so with the keenest of sorrow, fully realizing the loss that has thus been incurred.

His family has the sympathy of the people in more than ordinary sense. Their bereavement will be long and deeply felt. However, it is a comforting thought to realize his life was filled with usefulness, constructive purposes and he will always be remembered by the many who knew him as friend—tried in time of need and not found wanting.

Around 2,500 bills were introduced in the House on the opening day of the 75th Congress, but most of them will never get to the President's desk, the collection including many regional in nature and private "pets" of members, who delight in reporting "back home" that they have introduced a bill.

ANNUAL BALL AT PASS CHRISTIAN FOR MARDI GRAS SEASON

Saturday, February 6, Date
Announced for Event
Climaxing Mardi Gras

The Carnival Association, of Pass Christian has completed plans for its Eighth Annual Carnival Ball which will be given this year in Saturday, February 6, in the ball room of the Grey Castle Hotel, according to an announcement by the committee in charge of the affair.

The grand march will begin promptly at 8:30 o'clock p.m. Children will not be admitted to the affair, it was said.

The carnival ball held each year draws people from the Coast area and is a climax to the Mardi Gras gaieties.

Who the monarchs will be for 1937 still remains a complete secret. Miss Thelma Spence, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. J. H. Spence, who was queen of the carnival ball last year, will, with members of her court, welcome this year's royal party.

Former queens and their kings for the past seven years are, namely: Miss Marie Bertrand and B. L. Knott, 1930; Miss Emilie Farrell and Anthony Elwood Abbley, 1931; Miss Hazel Abbley and Clyde E. Lunay, 1932; Mrs. Peggy Cause and Jules D. Chopik, 1933; Mrs. Leo McDermott and Wm. J. Hegsey, 1934; Miss Ione Abbley and Anderson T. McCollister, 1935; Miss Thelma Spence and Max Connett, 1936.

THE ECHO'S COOKING CLASS

IN one New York hotel a choice of 141 egg dishes is offered to patrons. How many can you offer your family? It is very important that children enjoy eggs because they are so valuable in building healthy little bodies; so try serving them in some of the many attractive ways and your family won't tire of them.

Egg BENEDICTINE

Split and toast muffins. Saute circular pieces of cold boiled ham. Place ham on the toasted muffin halves. Place a poached egg on top of each. Cover with hollandaise sauce. To make the sauce; melt 2 tablespoons of butter in top of double boiler over boiling water. Add 2 tablespoons of flour and stir to a smooth paste. Add 1 cup of milk gradually, stirring constantly. Add 1-4 teaspoon salt and a dash of pepper and cayenne. Slowly add the beaten yolk of 1 egg mixed with 1 of the sauce. Continue stirring and add 2 tablespoons of lemon juice. Remove from the fire and slowly add 1-2 cup of mayonnaise. Blend well.

Scrambled Eggs (Tartiflette)

2 cups canned tomatoes
2 teaspoons sugar
1 teaspoon salt—pepper
4 tablespoons fat
1 sliced onion
6 eggs
Add sugar to tomatoes and cook slowly for 5 minutes. Add salt and pepper. Heat fat and fry onion until yellow. Remove onion and pour in tomatoes to which slightly beaten eggs have been added. Stir with a fork until light and creamy. Garnish with parsley.

Stuffed Eggs Hawaiian Style

6 hard boiled eggs
1/4 cup minced ripe olives
French dressing—salt
1/4 teaspoon mustard—pepper
Lettuce—crushed pineapple
Thousand Island dressing
Cut hard-boiled eggs in halves. Remove yolks, mash well, add olives, seasonings and sufficient French dressing to moisten. Refill whites with this mixture. Chill thoroughly (about 1 hour). Use well dried lettuce leaves, crinkly and curly at the edges, to complete cover each plate. Upon this put crushed pineapple, an average sized serving, with 2 eggs on top. Garnish with 3 or 4 ripe olives and a spoonful of Thousand Island dressing.

Eggs in Sausage Cups

Use thin slices of large bologna sausage, the soft kind. Do not remove the skin from the edges. Fry in bacon drippings on one side until the edges curl, forming cups. Break an egg into each sausage cup, season with salt and pepper. Cover the pan and cook slowly until eggs are as firm as desired.

Bacon and Toasted Egg

Dip as many rounds of bread in beaten egg, to which a little milk has been added, as you wish servings. Fry the bread lightly on both sides in a little fat. Place the rounds of bread on a greased shallow baking plate. Carefully drop an egg on each round. Place over each egg a cut slice of bacon. Broil under flame until both bacon and eggs are done. Serve at once.

Lucky Break

Love, Dad.

Eloping Bride—Here's a telegram from father.

Eloping Groom—What does he say?

Eloping Bride—Don't come home, and all will be forgiven.

WHAT THE PRESS IS SAYING OF MEN AND MATTERS IN EDITORIAL EXPRESSION

DEVIL'S ISLAND IS TO BE ABOLISHED.
(Clarion-Ledger)

A RELIC of medieval barbarity, Devil's Island—officially known as the French penal colony in French Guiana—is to be abolished. Devil's Island is the name of a small station in the colony where a few prisoners are segregated from their fellows for more "advanced" torture. But for most of the 84 years which this wretched place has been in operation it has been known the world over as Devil's Island, certainly a descriptive title for a prison from which there is no hope of release.

Horrible and lurid tales have been told about it, some of them making small mention of the crimes which have kept the islands populated since 1852. At intervals the French people have been ashamed of their far-away criminal colony, which has been called in France, "an abcess on the body colonial." It is significant that the ministry of justice has been most stubborn in maintaining Devil's Island as a place of punishment for treason, crimes of violence and inexcusable lawlessness, regarding its very existence as a preventative of serious criminality.

No more prisoners will be transported to French Guiana. A commission will soon be sent there to arrange for closing the colony and returning its inmates to prisons at home. This closes a long chapter in the history of crime and punishment, as happened when England abandoned the policy of sending criminals as far away as possible and forgetting them.

INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS OF THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLK IN HOLLYWOOD

ALICE FAYE is in the cast of "Wake Up and Live," the Walter Winchell-Ben Bernie film which is in the course of production. Miss Faye and Claire Trevor have the chief feminine roles.

The latest actress to be tested for the role of Scarlet O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind" is Wendy Barrie.

Edward G. Robinson has returned to Hollywood from England and is scheduled to start work in "Kid Galahad."

"The 13th Chair," a murder mystery which was made into a picture in 1919 by Pathe and in 1929 by MGM is scheduled to reach the screen again this year.

Nova Pilbeam who was so good in the role of Lady Jane Gray in "Nine Days a Queen," is to have the lead in a film based on the life of Queen Victoria and produced in England.

"Mutiny on the Bounty" was voted the year's best picture in a poll taken of over 500 film critics.

Shirley Temple still heads the list as the leading actress bringing in the most money at the box office. Clark Gable comes second followed by the team of Astaire and Rogers. Robert Taylor, Joe E. Brown, Dick Powell, Joan Crawford, Claudette Colbert, Jean MacDonald and Gary Cooper are other headliners at box office attractions.

Fred MacMurray is suffering an attack of "make-up poisoning." He has been in grease paint for about a year and this is supposed to be the cause for his condition. The picture, "Swing High, Swing Low," is being delayed on account of his illness.

Robert Taylor and Eleanor Powell will be co-starred in "Broadway Melody of 1937." Sophia Tucker and Buddy Ebsen have supporting roles in the same production.

Hollywood's make-up expert thinks that the five actresses who have improved their looks the most by changing their make-up are Carole Lombard, Merle Oberon, Gail Patrick, Kay Francis and Irene Dunne.

Boris Karloff will be a nice old night watchman in his next picture. Quite a different role from that of the hair-raising characters he usually portrays.

The publicity given to Barbara Stanwyck's supposed romance with Robert Taylor is credited with giving her a boost with the producers.

Octogenarian Walks Eight Miles To Sunday School

"Anybody can go to Sunday School if they want to," said "Uncle" Freeman Lee, 80-year-old pioneer of Caesar, who walked eight miles last Sunday to attend Sunday School. Muddy roads and cold weather did not deter this old man with flowing white beard, who happened to be a long way from his place of worship when the time came. Mr. Lee is a member of the Lee family who were among the earliest settlers to blaze the trail of civilization in this section of the South. The family of Lees settled near Caesar community and their tribe multiplied to such an extent that the community is now known as Lee town. The courageous spirit that sent "Uncle" Freeman trudging over a gravel road 8 miles to attend Sunday School, prevailed in the early days of the Lee family who builded an empire in a forest.—Picayune Item.

LITTLE CHANGE

A determined effort will likely be made to amend the recently enacted undistributed profits tax. This effort will be made to mitigate what opponents consider the most serious features of the law but there is little change of major changes in the measure.

"TARZAN ESCAPES," BREATH-TAKING NEW JUNGLE ADVENTURE, REUNITING JOHNNY WEISMULLER AND MAUREEN O'SULLIVAN

Has More Thrills Than Ever—Animal Collector Seeks To Capture "Tarzan" In Spine-Tingling Sequences—Encounter With Giant Bats, Stampede of Mad Elephants, Among Hair-Raising Thrills.

The best known character of modern fiction, cartoon and screen—the most popular adventure hero in all history—the idol of untold millions of kiddies of every race, color and creed.

The delight of hosts of men and women, Tarzan, is again to unroll his thrilling jungle life in a Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture.

This time it is "Tarzan Escapes," and again Johnny Weissmuller is Tarzan and again Maureen O'Sullivan is the heroine. The eagerly-awaited picture begins its engagement here Sunday and Monday at the A. & G. Theater.

With hordes of jungle beasts, with enough thrills for a dozen pictures, and with a brand new romantic idea, the new Edgar Rice Burroughs adventure yarn takes Tarzan and his beloved Jane into the land of the giant bats where perils never before filmed are encountered.

The new production was directed by Richard Thorpe, famed explorer and director of "Last of the Pagans." Since her last performance in a Tarzan picture Miss O'Sullivan has won dramatic triumphs in an unbroken series of hit pictures, including "The Barretts of Wimpole Street," in which she appeared with Norma Shearer and Fredric March; "David Copperfield," "The Thin Man," "Anna Karenina," "The Voice of Bugle Ann" and numerous others.

Prominent in the supporting cast of "Tarzan Escapes," are Benita Hume, recently seen as the malevolent spy in "Suzy," William Henry, Herbert Mundin and John Buckler. Henry, one of the most promising young juveniles on the MGM lot plays the role of Jane's cousin who braves darkest Africa to find her and induce her to return to civilization. Mundin adds considerable hilarity in another of his typical cockney characterizations; Buckler is seen as Major Fry, the explorer, as villainous a character as ever fought his way through the African swamp.

Battles with hostile African natives, an eerie encounter with giant bats, Tarzan's fight to release animals captured for menageries, the rescue of the white party from the wild Ganeloni tribesmen, the mad elephant stampede which saves the scouting party, the escape of Tarzan from a cage in which he has been imprisoned, native tortures, a plunge over a cliff, a perilous adventure in a crocodile-infested river—these are just a few of the many thrills sequenced in "Tarzan Escapes."

The picture was given the same spectacular production that marked the two preceding Tarzan adventure dramas, more than a year of extensive location shooting being required to give the atmosphere and backgrounds the details of authenticity.

STATE TUBERCULOSIS SANATORIUM TO PARTIALLY CLOSE

Lack of Sufficient Funds Causes Drastic Retrenchment

Sanatorium, Miss., Jan. 16.—Dr. Henry Boswell, Superintendent of Mississippi State Tuberculosis Sanatorium here, announces the closing of the Preventorium for children on January 20 for an indefinite period. He said this decision followed conferences with the State Board of Health, directing board of the Sanatorium, and the State Budget Commission. After payment of a balance from previous budget periods, remaining funds were said to be inadequate without a substantial reduction in the cost of operation. Under present requirements the institution must operate within revenues available. The management feels that in closing the Preventorium less serious immediate danger to those affected with result, since this will require the discharge of fewer adult patients, many of whom are acutely ill and will die if treatment is not continued.

The announcement adds that, due to conditions existing during depression the Sanatorium was called upon to care for more patients than was possible with funds available. Revenues from patients, which ordinarily provide a large part of operating funds, fell far short of expectation.

After the necessary curtailment of the Preventorium, three convalescent wards and half the Negro infirmary will have been closed, plus two wards vacant for some time. The patient list will be reduced 102 from the average of 327 cared for during the past six months, leaving 225 patients in the institution.

During the adjustment period, according to Dr. Boswell, only those applicants who will pay the maximum rate of $3.00 per day can be admitted. Though this will work a hardship on many, he said he has no alternative.

CUBAN TRADE

A pronounced increase in the commerce between Cuba and the United States is attributed to the reciprocal trade treaty signed September 3, 1934, according to a report of a special committee consisting of representatives of the Departments of Commerce and Agriculture and the Tariff Commission. Exports which averaged $30,000,000 during the depressed period preceding the agreement, increased to $46,000,000 and $55,000,000 during the two years since the treaty has been in effect. Imports, largely sugar, jumped from an average of $51,000,000 to $121,000,000 during the first year and was $115,000,000 during the second year.

the petition is owned and occupied by the petitioner as a homestead.

And the Board being fully satisfied that the petitioner is entitled to have said homestead exemption, as herein provided, and that the Board should so order.

It is, therefore, ordered by the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Mississippi, that the petitioner, Geo. Talbor, Jr., be and he is hereby granted the homestead exemption on the land set out in her petition, being a total reduction in assessment of State taxes only of $1000.00 for the year 1936, and $1000.00 for the year 1937.

FUNERAL OF SPLENDID YOUNG MAN HELD ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Remains of Thomas Neville Dambrino, Who Died at Gulfport, Thursday

Last rites for Thomas Neville Dambrino, who died at King's Daughters Hospital, Gulfport, Thursday of last week, were held from the Fahey Funeral Home, Union Street, Friday afternoon, 4 o'clock.

Remains were laid to rest in the family burial place at Cedar Rest cemetery, with the Rev. Leo F. Fahey officiating. The funeral was private.

Thomas Neville Dambrino was a native of Bay St. Louis, born 25 years ago, a son of the late Joseph Dambrino and Annette Adam, both of Bay St. Louis. His immediate surviving relatives are three sisters and one brother, namely, Mrs. Fred North, Mrs. Lillian Carver, Milo Dambrino all of Bay St. Louis and Mrs. L. A. Koenann, resident of Gulfport.

The passing away of this splendid young man, who died under such unusual circumstances is doubly sad. An industrious and worthy personality, enjoying the esteem and confidence of all who knew him, he was taken away somewhat suddenly in the very bloom of young manhood. It was known for a long time he was a sufferer of an ailment that caused him great pain to his head and finally when this condition had developed to acute stage he was taken to the hospital where his case at first was not exactly apparent. Finally he developed an abscess and deadly complication declared.

He had worked a long time for the P. E. Ford Service Station where he was known to all patrons for his attentiveness and accommodating manner and later for the Chevrolet Service Station corner Front and Main streets.

A young man of substantial character and pleasing personality he was widely and well known and the news of his somewhat sudden ailment and unexpected death is deplored.

IT'S TRUE! By Wiley Padan

New York, N. Y.—"IT'S TRUE!" that every precaution was taken to keep the solution of Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's "After the Thin Man" a complete mystery," says Wiley Padan. "Not even the stars, William Powell and Myrna Loy, or the director, W. S. Van Dyke, knew the ending to Dashiell Hammett's sequel to 'The Thin Man'! The last four scenes were missing from the script—and the only copy was locked in a safety deposit vault until the last possible moment. The final scenes were photographed behind closed doors."

AZALEA PLANTING

Regarding planting and cultivation of azaleas, we think early Fall or Spring the best season for planting. Azaleas are very particular as to soil. The earth in which they are planted must be acid, and well supplied with vegetable matter, preferably secured from peat muck or rotted leaves. Such material is very necessary to keep an even supply of moisture, besides supplying the kind of plant food they like. Lime or an alkaline soil is poisonous to them. If lime is present it must be removed before planting. This is best done by removing soil, and filling in with the proper earth, or mixture. It is best to plant azaleas in specially prepared beds filled with suitable earth. Would suggest that you remove the earth to a suitable depth, according to size of plant, then loosen by spading five or six inches more, fill this space with well rotted leaf mould or wood's earth. Preferably oak leaves or other hard wood trees. The drainage must be good, azaleas require a moist well drained soil, but they do not like to stand in water. They should be set no deeper than they grew originally. After planting, water thoroughly. The azalea is a surface feeder and the roots therefore should be well covered with three or four inches of leaves at all times, in order to keep them from drying out in Summer and freezing in Winter. When leaves have partly rotted down, add another coating, to bring up the original level. Fertilize with barnyard or thin coating cottonseed meal on top of ground.

Personal and General

BAY ST. LOUIS CARNIVAL BALL TO BE AFFAIR OF GENERAL SOCIAL INTEREST

Bay St. Louis annual Carnival Ball, to be held this year on the evening of Thursday, February 4, is a matter of social interest and importance and of wide-spread general attraction as well.

Appearance of the gracious queen is always a signal for a burst of admiration and thrills—the queen who appears from a hidden recess, in spot light, attired in all the glory of fine raiment as only a Carnival queen becomingly may.

Each year there is much speculation as to the queen's identity. Many guesses are ventured—only a few materialize. But with her majesty's appearance all doubts are put to flight. The king is also an interesting personage but the queen—as it seems—takes stellar place.

The attendance promises well this year, judging from indications that never fail. It has been noted that each succeeding year interest increases and we may well expect for this, the fourth year, participation and patronage doubly accelerated.

SOCIALLY PROMINENT YOUNG PEOPLE TO WED MONDAY NEXT

Mr. Edwin H. Fuchic, former Bay St. Louis resident and student, and Miss Mildred Grenier, both residents of New Orleans, will be married on Monday next, the ceremony of the Catholic Church to be performed and the wedding will be a quiet one, only immediate relatives present.

The bride-to-be is well connected and socially prominent. The groom-elect is a son of Mr. S. M. Fuchic and Mrs. C. J. Chadwick and also prominently connected.

The announcement of the approaching nuptials is of wide interest in New Orleans where the couple is well known and to many friends along the Mississippi Gulf Coast. They will reside in New Orleans.

ANNOUNCING ENGAGEMENT OF MISS NAMIAS TO MR. BERNARD BLAIZE

Announcement is made of the engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mildred Namias, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. B. Namias, of Pass Christian, and Mr. Bernard Blaize, son of Mayor and Mrs. G. Y. Blaize, of Bay St. Louis.

The bride-designate is a member of the younger set at Pass Christian and a graduate from Sacred Heart Convent, New Orleans. The groom is the third son of Mayor and Mrs. Blaize, widely known and is a graduate of St. Stanislaus College.

The approaching event is one of interest to a wide circle of friends in both states.

FORMER POPULAR RESIDENTS ARE VISITORS FOR DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Hennen Legendre of New Orleans, returned from Pass Christian Wednesday, visited old friends at the Bay. Mrs. Legendre, formerly, Mary Boulemer, spent her early girlhood here and was deservedly popular with all classes. She won hearts by her solicitude, consideration, happy smile and ever-ready helpful hand. She made a delightful picture when driving to and from St. Joseph's where she attended school. Her sailor hat hanging down her back of her head and her golden curls hanging down her back; her eager eyes searching for some tot to whom she could give a lift, or some pedestrian she could relieve of a package or bundle. Time flies! She is now a grandmother, though looking scarcely old enough to be married.

DELIGHTFUL AND SUCCESSFUL AFFAIR AT S. S. C. LOUNGE.

The Lounge, at St. Stanislaus College, a center for many activities, was the scene of an interesting and successful bridge party on Monday afternoon, when nine tables of players whiled away the time all too quickly. The affair was presented under auspices of the Mothers' Club, of which Mrs. Edouard C. Carrere is president.

A dainty prize was set for every table, each well worthy of striving for to say nothing of the delightful evening afforded. Another such affair is eagerly looked for and which possibly will be given at a later date, to be announced in due time.

CHRISTENING CEREMONY AT CATHOLIC CHURCH SUNDAY AFTERNOON.
